

Rib Mountain Included in Countywide Uniform Addressing Project

On May 16, 2019, the Wisconsin Supreme Court handed down a 5-0 decision, which confirmed Marathon County's authority to change road names and addresses in towns to further public safety and aid in the delivery of emergency services. In light of the court's decision, the Town of Rib Mountain will now be included in the Uniform Addressing project. The project was first approved by the Marathon County Board of Supervisors in 2016 and implementation began in 2018.

Marathon County will work with the Town of Rib Mountain to develop a plan to implement Uniform Addressing as efficiently as possible for residents, business owners, and landowners. More than 60 road names and over 3,500 addresses in the Town of Rib Mountain will be changed. Implementation of the Uniform Addressing project in Rib Mountain is slated to begin in late Summer or early Fall 2019.
